GAME ON

Game On is a resource that has been designed and mapped to the National Health and Education Curriculum. The book contains resilience learning opportunities which allow both teachers and readers to deliver this content in a confident manner.

The book aims to facilitate a culture of resilience within the Sutherland Shire community. The program will empower, engage and educate students in important social themes such as conflict resolution, anxiety and anger management resilience. The book is designed to be delivered by a teacher within a school environment and is accompanied by a teacher's resource (video and document) which is emailed to schools upon redemption.

The NRL after-school non-contact Junior Participation Program provides children with an opportunity to experience non-contact Rugby League in a fun, friendly and safe environment. The program caters for children of all ability levels with a focus on developing the fundamental skills of the sport. Each session will provide a balance of structured skill development activities and small sided games designed to develop Rugby League specific skills (i.e. pass, catch, kick) and fundamental movement skills (i.e. agility, balance, and coordination). Each child will receive a positive and rewarding sporting experience that will aid their physical, cognitive and social development and help foster a positive association with sport and physical activity.
